Hello everyone,
I hope this email finds you well.

I am a Glendale resident of 5 years and absolutely love the way the city council works. It feels very democratic with the mayors taking turns via ceremony every two years. I would deeply mourn any changes to this system. I heard what people said yesterday during the council meeting about district kingdoms and couldn't agree more. There is no such thing as a representative of a district without bribery, corruption, or cronyism. There is also no such thing as one ethnic group in one district, nor is there cohesiveness within any ethnicity. People are people no matter what skin color and what origin. The only thing we have in common may be language and maybe certain experiences or traditions due to where we grew up. But all of this is more or less left behind when we experience daily life in America.

I am against being put into any kind of box by demographics, income, or location. I prefer melting pots and the ability to be able to raise my voice and be heard the way it works now. I hope this districting and elected mayor proposal will be discontinued as soon as possible and the money for it will be invested in public anti-violence education because this is what we ALL need. PEACE - people experiencing awesome childhood education because mentally healthy kids become mentally healthy adults!

This is the future that we all want in Glendale - productive healthy human beings fulfilling their purpose and potential.

Thank you.

Warmly,
Karin

Dear council members and mapglendale,
Who so kindly responded.

You all made it perfectly clear on Tuesday evening that you follow CA state guidelines to provide an option on a ballot next year.

I responded to mapglendale's call for comment and I included you to say thank you for your excellent work as a team.

I understand that the districting idea is meant to help CA people groups who usually do not get the representation they may want and need.

Systemic miseducation and policies that cause great suffering and inequality like racism, and other -isms, hurt marginalized communities because they strip the humanity of each individual.

However, districting is n o t the answer to this problem. This is the answer: humane, antiviolent, trauma-informed public education, education, education.

When we properly, kindly, gently educate every child and individual, so ALL truly feel safe and that they matter, THEN we can use our full humanity to address any and a l l issues we face together.

We all truly want to feel safe and that we matter. Districting does the opposite: it divides and so we can be conquered instead of standing united as humanity.

Thank you.

Warmly,
Karin

I am 100% against redistricting. I do not believe that forming districts in areas to create "equity" will create the desired result. Gerrymandering is the major concern for me.

I will be speaking against this process from beginning to end. We do not need "little kingdoms" in Glendale... nor do we need to open ourselves up to more corruption like Los Angeles.

I was dismayed to recently learn about the resolution to split Glendale into "districts" and the change to how our city Mayor is chosen. Clearly I'm joining this conversation late!

I listened to the City Council meeting of June 13th, and all of the discussion was about engaging the public in how to create the districts... getting the community involved in it. But the entire discussion about forums and such were entirely about how to draw the maps.

What I don't understand is: why are we doing this at all??

I can't weigh in on how to draw the district maps until I understand WHY the resolution came about. I searched the city's website but couldn't find an explanation. I have some concerns:

- Won't this just balkanize Glendale, pitting different parts of Glendale against each other (more than they already are!!) ??
- And regarding the election of the major, I am concerned that this will turn our elections into the kind of political-party-circuses that we currently see in the State and Federal elections.

So I would really like to know:

1. What was the problem that this change is trying to solve?
and
2. What evidence do we have that this change will actually solve the problem?

I'm hoping that the community forums will provide an explanation of why this resolution was passed.

Thank you for your map submission. NDC (the City's demographic consultant for this project) has imported your map, and I wanted to be sure you were aware that the map does not meet the federal requirement for equal population in each district. Under federal law, the largest and smallest districts must be within 10% of each other -- in Glendale's case, within 3,283 people. Unfortunately in the submitted map the largest district (District 5) and the smallest district (District 2) are separated by 6,779 people. When you are using the DRA mapping tool, in the top right the "deviation" column next to each district number provides the district total population and each district's deviation from the ideal (perfectly-balanced) population count.

Would you like to revisit your map and submit an updated version? If you would prefer the original map be shared with the public and the Council we will do so, but it would be shared with a note stating it does not meet the federal requirements for a district map.

Thank you again for your interest and participation in this important process for the City's future!

Hello,

I'm Araik Sinanian, a lifelong resident of Glendale, homeowner in Mariposa and Riverside Rancho neighborhoods, HOA president at Nor Windsor, and founder of the local nonprofit, Bridging the Borders.

Recently, our city has seen an influx of newcomers, largely attracted by our proximity to Los Angeles proper and the entertainment industry. While diversity and change are important for a vibrant community, we've begun to see the tell-tale signs of gentrification, which has sometimes been accompanied by a disregard for the deep-rooted values of our community.

Too often, these newcomers seem to view Glendale as a mere appendage to LA, failing to truly invest themselves in our local community's distinct culture and identity. Glendale is not just a place to live; it's a community to belong to, with a rich history and diverse population that has worked tirelessly to build the city we know and love.

This is why I write to you today. It is crucial that we actively involve ourselves in guiding the future growth of our city. We need to ensure that our community values remain intact, even as we navigate the tide of change.

I welcome your thoughts on how we can collaboratively mitigate these issues and help newcomers understand and respect the uniqueness of our beloved Glendale.

Thank you for your time, and I look forward to our combined efforts in keeping Glendale's spirit alive and vibrant. I will be attending the districting meetings coming up but would love to get involved in other ways as well.

Best Regards,

Araik Sinanian

This is more for information than as a suggestion.

I am not sure that beyond the general need for safety, the neighborhoods included in the Montrose draft map have much in common. This may or may not be an advantage. I would like to know the pros and cons.

In the Sanitation charter, for instance, multi-family dwellings (rentals and condos) are lumped together and designated as "commercial" property if there are more than 5 units. This created a lot of problems specially in the older condominiums like ours on Piedmont Ave. which are not designed for large trashbins and haulers.

Right now, I see that "Montrose" includes the businesses on either side of Honolulu and around the crossing with Ocean View and Verdugo Blvd. It also includes the Verdugo Hills hospital. Our utility and public lighting needs will be very different, for example.

I just don't know enough about this issue. There may be advantages. I am asking for time on the agenda for discussion of what mixing residential and commercial might mean for a district, specially in light of the difficulty we face because of the trash collection charter.

Thank you,
Joyce

Subject: Robert's Proposed District Map showing five districts (seven districts were not allowed by the program)

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links, open attachments, or reply if you are unsure as to the sender.

Please find the link to my proposed District Map showing five districts based primarily on demographic data provided for "Renters" and "Income". Race, language, political party affiliations were not a priority. My idea is to provide increased representation to the renters of this city.

The renters have been left out of the local government decision making process. For more than the sixty years I've lived in this city there has been over-representation of Home Owners Associations, Real Estate interests, Big monied businesses and City Employee unions.....all looking for more influence and special treatment in exchange for campaign contributions. This District Map should break-up the HOA's influence (divide and conquer). It should separate and discourage joint efforts by big-monied businesses (ie: car dealerships) to reduce their sales taxes and permits.

These districts are not based on equal population numbers for each district. No, only those districts with a substantial potential to increase the number of housing units will be allowed larger population numbers with the possibility of splitting the districts in the future when the population has increased and need for more representation is necessary. Those districts which do not have many Multi-family zones are not expected to increase their population and therefore no increase in representation. There should be an odd number of districts to prevent a deadlock during Council Voting. I would prefer seven districts but the program only allows six. Also, the Template inaccurately shows un-inhabitable acreage which gives the wrong impression of the population size of the city.....the blocks showing the city dump, mountain tops, city parks, power generation plants and industrial and commercial uses should not be included with housing! And NO!....I don't want Caruso for Mayor!

Robert Taylor

Here is the Map of Council Districts that I would like to see implemented.

Although I have plagiarized Map 102, I feel that it shows exactly what I would have drawn. I trust that this acceptable.

I believe Districting, with an elected Mayor, is the best form of governing for Glendale and I support this action to make it so.

Thank you for considering my thoughts.

Hello, John

Thank you for your question.

On May 2, 2023, the Glendale City Council initiated a process to undertake a transition in the makeup of its governing body intended to give residents a more prominent voice in local government. The Council initiated the process for the following reasons: geographically and socioeconomically diverse representation on City Council, constituent services, costs to run for City Council and potential legal risks.

For more details regarding the background of the process, visit the Background section on the districting website. You can also learn more about the process by watching a recorded public hearing or attending one of the City's community workshops. Please visit the Calendar Page of the website for recordings and future meeting dates.

Good evening dear Glendale Mapping Team,

I believe it is exceedingly important to have districts in our city, and applaud this work!
Any argument against districting, is an argument against democracy and against representation.

I'd like to encourage the city to send postcards to all city residents about this process. I understand it is a cost, but this is literally about cultivating a more active involvement in local government, which should be the top priority of city hall. More active resident involvement in turn promote increased safety, cohesiveness, and mutual support in our neighborhoods!

Lastly, I'd like to submit my map, using the provided tool: <https://davesredistricting.org/join/140ab234-4fa7-4617-82be-99497e71cd32> (Please let me know if you are having difficulty opening it).

The division is not exact and could definitely be tweaked, but having learned about population distribution in our city, and having been a resident for over two decades, the distinct districts/neighborhoods I see are:

- 1) North Glendale/Montrose
- 2) Mountain/Glenoaks Canyon/East Glendale
- 3) Brand Park and adjacent neighborhoods
- 4) West Glendale
- 5) Central Glendale
- 6) South Glendale

Thank you,
Hayk Makhmuryan

I am submitting a partial map because I don't know other areas of the city well enough to draw lines for their districts. In evaluating draft maps I hope Glendale pays particular attention to submissions from people who live in the districts. They know as others may not where natural community boundaries lie. An example of not understanding this is Draft Map 102 which puts Whiting Woods, a single access neighborhood that debouches on to Honolulu, in a district to the south to which it has no access.

A photograph showing a close-up of a wooden surface, likely a table or desk, with a white paper overlay. The wood has a prominent grain pattern and a warm, reddish-brown tone. The white paper is placed on the right side of the frame, partially overlapping the wood. On the paper, the words "Gle" and "Put" are printed in a large, bold, black serif font, stacked vertically. The paper also features a faint, thin-lined rectangular border.

The main purpose of this map is to show that draft maps 104 and 105 problematically divide neighborhoods/communities of interest in the region of Glendale near San Fernando and the I-5 corridor. This is particularly true for the neighborhoods of Pelanconi and Fremont Park, which should not be divided.

It may make sense to have a district that includes the northern part of the district shown in the linked map, and a separate district that includes the southern portion, rather than keeping this all in a single district. However, the residents that live along San Fernando Road and within a close distance from I-5 have the highest scores in CalEnviroScreen, as shown in the screenshot below the map link

Also, what is the reasoning behind having this chart only for Armenians vs other communities?

Hi. Thanks for the response. The process you describe is problematic; it allows City Councilmembers who have a vested interest in certain maps (i.e., the ones that do not force them to lose their seats) to determine the map the only map that residents get to vote on. This approach presents a clear conflict of interest. Instead, the maps presented for the vote should be selected by the voters.

Is there a mechanism through which I can voice this concern? I fear that the City will be forced into costly litigation if it proceeds down the path you describe.

Thanks. - M.

Thanks. So, just send an email to the councilmembers? Ok. I will copy the City Attorney too.

I should note that there would be no additional expense (or violation of California law) if voters were allowed to select the map that will be presented on the ballot through the City's existing website. In other words, the City could put the submitted maps up for a vote on the website -- then use the chosen map for the ballot.

Thanks. - M.

Hi M,

California law requires charter revisions to be put to the voters in a yes/no format, so even if the expense were not so prohibitive, the City is not allowed to put 20 or 30 different maps on the ballot for voters to consider. Please feel free to express your thoughts -- and map preferences -- to the Council via email or appearing at one or more of the upcoming hearings and community forums.

The First Set of Draft Maps Are Here!

Dear Glendale Community,

The City of Glendale's districting outreach process is in full swing! On Tuesday, August 15, the City will hold its third public hearing on district formation at the City Council's regularly scheduled meeting starting at 6:00 PM. Head over to City Council Chambers, 613 E. Broadway, to make your voice heard in the district formation process and ensure your community is represented.

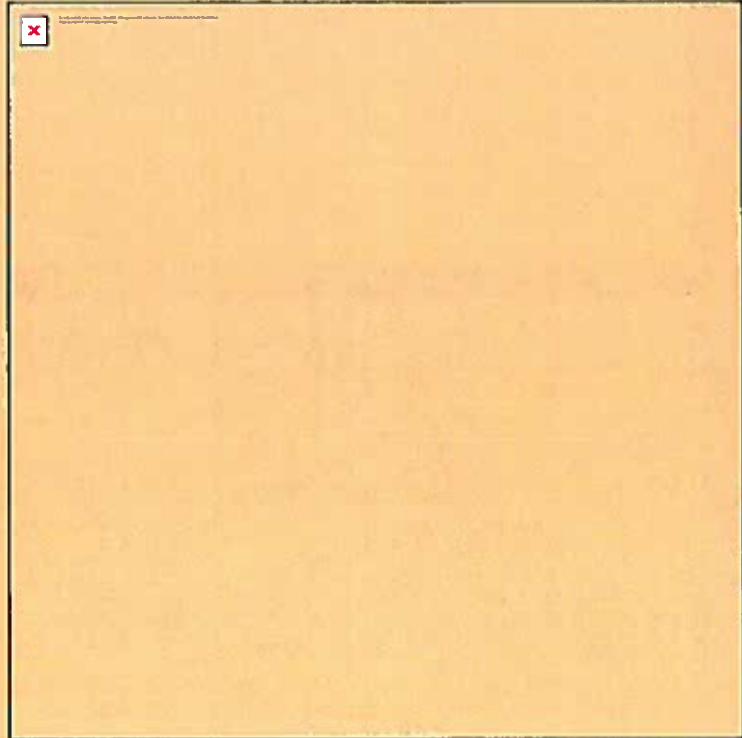

The third public hearing is the City Council's first review of draft maps prepared by the City's professional demographer, National Demographics Corporation (NDC). NDC will present the maps that the public submitted through August 5 and the maps they created based on communities of interest information that residents have submitted since June 2023.

All draft maps being considered are posted on MapGlendale.org/Draft-Maps.

View Draft Maps

We encourage you to share your feedback on map elements you agree or disagree with at the public hearing or by emailing MapGlendale@GlendaleCA.gov. You can also continue to submit maps and share your thoughts about where you think district lines should be drawn and other feedback for the Council's consideration at the fourth public hearing, which will take place on Tuesday, October 10.

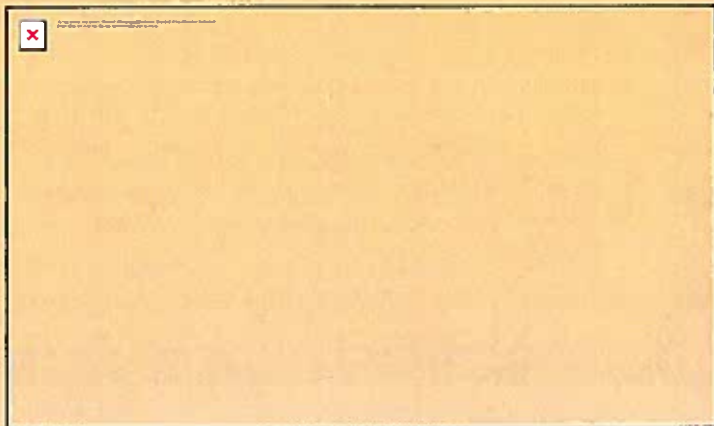

To review draft maps and collect public input on potential district boundaries, we are hosting a second round of community workshops and events, which will run from August 17 through September 16. The districting outreach team will be at the following workshops:

For our virtual community workshop scheduled for Thursday, August 17 at 6:30 PM, click on the button below to join the Zoom meeting.

In addition to the community workshops above, the following pop-up events offer additional opportunities for the community to engage and provide feedback on the districting process:

In addition to the button above, the calendar page on MapGlendale.org hosts Zoom meeting information for our virtual workshop on August 17 at 6:30 PM. For more information on Glendale's district formation process and all of the ways you can participate, visit MapGlendale.org.

Hello City of Glendale,

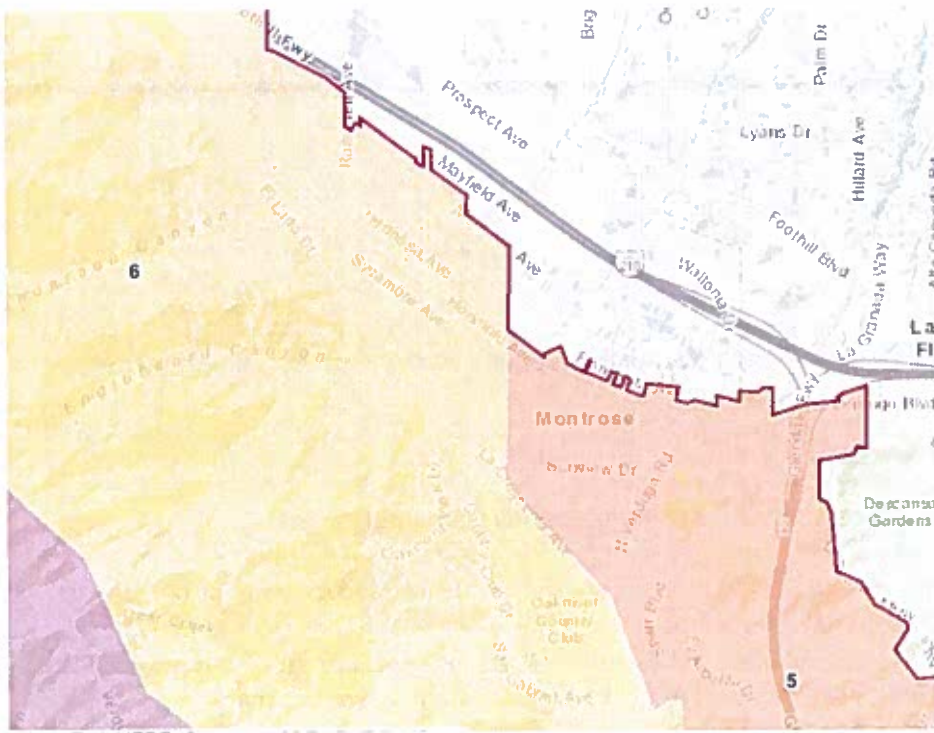

Thank you for the communication about this process! It's been really informative and interesting!

I live in Sycamore Woods of Verdugo City and I suggest Northern Glendale should be grouped together as one district (e.g. Crescenta Highlands, Montrose, Spar Heights, Whiting Woods, etc.). These neighborhoods have similar interests - schools attended, parks (or lack thereof), our gathering place of Downtown Montrose, local events attended, lost pets, infrastructure most used, walking/biking routes, etc. I know that my time locally spent surrounds these neighbors/neighborhoods, and I would guess that many of my neighbors feel the same.

For example, District 6 of Map 117 is a good example of keeping these northern neighborhoods together.

Conversely, the split in Map 108 of districts 6 & 5 is conversely an example of our neighborhoods being split up in a way that divides our local community within the city.

Thank you for your time,
